SOLEMNITY OF ST. PETER AND ST. PAUL (YEAR C)

Today we celebrate the memory of the holy apostles Peter and Paul, different from each other, but celebrated together as pillars of the Church of Christ. In the Gospel, Jesus' crucial question resounds: "Who do you say that I am?" Addressed to the Twelve, including Peter, but certainly also echoed repeatedly in the heart of Paul. Peter responds: "You are the Christ, the Messiah, the Son of God," and Jesus replies that this revelation can only come from the Father. We could also list numerous responses from Paul. Both responded with words, they adhered to Christ, but we know that this faith did not spare them from falls and errors. Where then does their greatness lie? Why do we rejoice for these apostles who with their blood gave a foundation to the Church of Rome that presides in charity? Because both were able to give Jesus' question a convergent and decisive answer, which expresses the profound truth of the Church. Peter writes: "Come to Christ, the living stone, rejected by men but chosen and precious in the sight of God" (1 Peter 2:4); and Paul echoes him: "Our fathers drank from a rock... and that rock was Christ" (1 Corinthians 10:4).

LIVING AS APOSTLES, WITH MARY IN THE SPIRIT

The Spirit of God reveals beauty, truth and goodness in every encounter without fail. This is one reason the Apostles so deeply desired the accompaniment of Mary as they waited in the Upper Room. Mary, filled with the Spirit, had a quiet attraction that drew them, interiorly, closer to God. They gathered around her for strength and insight as they pondered the full impact of Jesus' resurrection. The first disciples knew, intuitively, that Mary dispels darkness and confusion by her presence. She brings those around her to the Lord and to the Spirit of the Father. As Pope St. John Paul II said, Mary "does not compete with the role of the Holy Spirit" but "is called by the same Spirit to co-operate in a maternal way with him." The Holy Spirit "continually revives the Church's memory of Jesus' words to the beloved disciple: 'Behold, your mother!' and invites believers to love Mary as Christ loved her." ## SANTI PIETRO E PAOLO APOSTOLI (ANNO C)

Oggi siamo in festa nella memoria dei santi apostoli Pietro e Paolo, diversi tra loro, ma celebrati insieme quali colonne della Chiesa di Cristo. Nel Vangelo risuona la domanda cruciale di Gesù: «Voi chi dite che io sia?». Rivolta ai Dodici, tra cui Pietro, ma certamente risuonata a più riprese anche nel cuore di Paolo. Pietro risponde: «Tu sei il Cristo, il Messia, il Figlio di Dio», e Gesù ribatte che questa rivelazione può venire solo dal Padre. Potremmo elencare anche numerose risposte di Paolo. Entrambi hanno risposto a parole, hanno aderito a Cristo, ma sappiamo come questa fede non li abbia risparmiati da cadute ed errori. Dove sta dunque la loro grandezza? Perché gioiamo per questi apostoli che con il loro sangue hanno dato un fondamento alla Chiesa di Roma che presiede nella carità? Perché entrambi hanno saputo dare alla domanda di Gesù una risposta convergente e decisiva, che esprime la verità profonda della Chiesa. Scrive Pietro: «Stringetevi a Cristo, pietra viva, rifiutata dagli uomini ma scelta e preziosa davanti a Dio» (1Pietro 2,4); e Paolo gli fa eco: «I nostri padri bevevano da una roccia... e quella roccia era il Cristo» (1Corinzi 10,4).
